:NEW MOON:

 IS said that I control  the weather.

Fair skies shall reign if
that be truth.

I wish, — they shine in me together,
For thee,

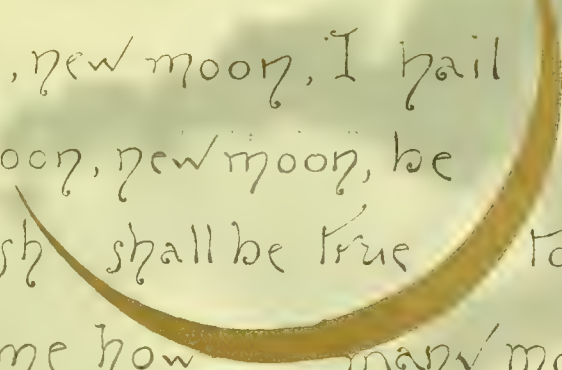

Great wisdom and perpetual  youth.

New Moon

New moon, new moon, I hail thee!
New moon, new moon, be kind to me;
If my wish shall be true to me,
Show me how many moons it will be.

:FOUR-LEAVED: CLOVER:

Joy as blush- ing maid am I,

Yet, once captured naught deny.

Success attend
each happy lover

Who chances on the Four-leaved Clover!

Four-leaved Clover.

Unconsciously, many lovers walk over

The hidden

of the Four-leaved Clover.

Rice.

May the "rice of plenty"
and good fortune,
be shower'd upon you.

:WISH-BONE:

"BON VIVANT" I, though slim
perchance;

Judge not my strength by
casual glance,

My wish,  towards
creature comfort friends,

Good health, good cheer, and many —  friends!

Wish Bone.

At each end
firm grasp we'll take,
And make our wish.

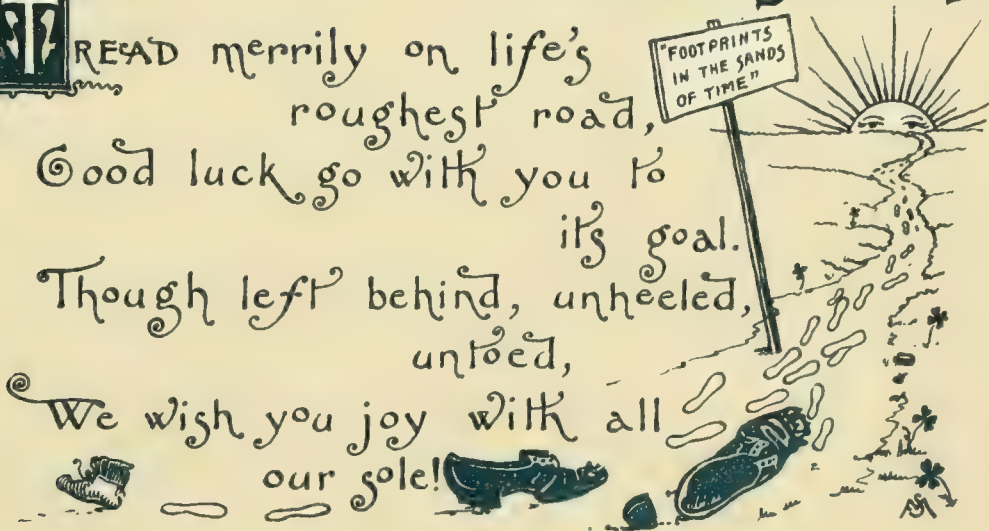

before you break.

:OLD SHOES:

TREAD merrily on life's roughest road,
Good luck go with you to its goal.
Though left behind, unheeled,
untoed,
We wish you joy with all our sole!

"FOOTPRINTS
IN THE SANDS
OF TIME"

O Kiss the bride and I will throw

the old Shoe
after.

:HORSESHOE:

INCE wishes are horseshoes,

I bid you good

With ease for your speed;

Long life for your saddle,

Long life for your steed.

Horse Shoe.

"Shoe the old horse
Shoe the old mare,
And let the little colt
Go quite bare".
